BRYAN ASKS SOME QUESTIONS.

TRUSTS, MILITARISM, IMPERIALISM.

What is Your Title to the Filipino? Would You be Willing to Make the Army 200,000 if the Leaders Said so—Do You Think You Can Buy the Right to Govern People?

Battle Creek, Mich., Oct. 11—Despite his arduous labors of yesterday, Mr. Bryan was astir early this morning. He made the first of sixteen speeches on the program for the day at Hastings, beginning at a quarter past seven and notwithstanding the early hour he had a good audience. The second speech of the morning was made at the little town of Nashville. Mr. Bryan had only five minutes, and he contented himself with suggesting a series of questions to Republicans. These are as follows:

"If the trust is a good thing, why did the Republican platform denounce trusts?"

"If the trust is a bad thing, why did the Republican administration cause more trusts to be organized than during all the previous history of the country?"

"If some trusts are good and some bad, can you tell the divergence between a good one and a bad one?"

"Do you know of any good monopoly in private hands?"

"Do you know of any man good enough to stand at the head of a monopoly and determine the price of that which others are to use?"

"Do you know of any good reason why the army should be made 100,000?"

"Would you be willing to make the army 200,000 if the Republican leaders said so, or a half million if they wanted it?"

"What is your title to the Filipino?"

"Did you buy him or did you get him by force?"

"Do you think you can buy the right to govern people?"

"What are you going to do with the Filipino when you get him?"

"Are you going to kill him?"

"Well, you cannot do that because you would lose your trade argument. You have got to let him live if you trade with him. Dead men don't buy things. If he lives, is he to be a citizen or subject? Are you going to have Congressmen from the Philippines, and Senators and electors? If not are you going to have subjects? When did you decide that it was wise for us to have half an empire and half a republic? When did you decide that a colonial policy was good? Shall we force upon Porto Ricans, because we have the power, that which we would not bear ourselves? What are you going to do with the Philippine question?

At Battle Creek Mr. Bryan spoke in a large park adjoining the Michigan Central depot and had one of the best audiences of the tour.

At Albion Mr. Bryan replied to Governor Roosevelt's assertion that the increase in the army was made necessary by the war in the Philippines, saying:

"The President in his message of Dec. 1898 asked for an army of 100,000, 2 months before a shot was fired in the Philippine Islands, and a Republican House of Representatives passed the bill raising the army to 100,000. And it did it, after the treaty was signed with Spain and before an army was raised against this country anywhere."

To Speak in the Eighth and Ninth.

Chairman Simmons has asked Solicitor A. L. Brooks to make some speeches in the Eighth and Ninth Districts. He will speak at Caswell Court Tuesday and spend the remainder of the week in the Eighth and Ninth. Later on in the campaign he will canvass some more in these districts, also in his own.

Football at Oak Ridge.

The teams of the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts and Oak Ridge Institute played a game of football at the latter place yesterday afternoon. Oak Ridge was defeated by a score of 17 to 5, but will protest the game on account of some irregularity. It is said that two of the A. & M. College players were members of another college team last year and should have been ruled out.

MARKED $10,000 AS $5,000.

Sent it by Express and Now Claims That Only $5,000 Was Delivered—Where is The Other $5,000?

New York, Oct. 11.—Gustave Eckstein, a New York representative of a Savanah, Ga., wholesale cotton house, and one of the partners in it, is trying to find out what has become of $5,000 which he claims was in an envelope sent by express marked $5,000, but said to have contained double that sum when it was dispatched. On being opened at its destination, only $5,000, it is declared, was forthcoming.

One day last week Mr. Eckstein went to the Central National Bank, where he is a depositor, and drew a check for $10,000, asking the cashier, Mr. Young, for bills of large denomination. He was given nine $1,000 bills and two $500 bills. Then he asked the cashier to have them put in a large envelope as he wanted to send the money by express. This was done and the parcel was handed to him.

Then, according to the story told by the cashier, the cotton merchant took a pen and marked the envelope $5,000. That done, he returned it to the cashier and requested him to forward it to Savannah along with the rest of the bank business. The envelope was directed to Eckstein's brother, who is at the head of the Savannah house. Mr. Young took it and Mr. Eckstein left the bank. At the close of business, Eckstein's package, marked $5,000, was taken to an office of the Adams Express Company by a messenger of the bank, a receipt was issued for it as marked and it was forwarded, together with the other packages of money that had come from the same bank.

Nothing was heard of the matter until late Tuesday night and then Gustave Eckstein got a telegram from his brother in Savanah saying that the envelope had been received, but it contained only $5,000. It is said that Gustave Eckstein had written his brother of the transaction and that the envelope would contain $10,000. Mr. Eckstein has put the matter into the hands of his attorney.

See Private John Allen and Attend the Ball, Too.

Manager McAdoo says that all those who attend the marshal's hall tonight, will have plenty of time to see Private John Allen before going. The curtain will rise promptly at 8:30 and thus give plenty of time to see the play out and get to the ball, too.

Gamblers Ejected from the Fair.

Several parties who were running gambling schemes at the Fair grounds were forced to vacate yesterday afternoon. They were located in the rear of the grand stand and were supposed to be running innocent games. In reality they were fleecing the gullible, and the management very properly had them ejected.

October Watermelons and Turnip Salad.

A man from the country drove up to a grocery store in Greensboro this morning and inquired of the proprietor if he wished to buy any turnip greens or watermelons. The grocer thought the fellow was either drunk or joking, but an investigation showed that in his wagon were a number of melons and a quantity of turnip salad—a funny combination, to be sure.

Deserves Success.

Raliegh Post.

The Post wishes to congratulate its friends in Greensboro upon the excellent weather which enabled the public to visit them and enjoy the Fair this week This good people never fail in an undertaking. They deserve to succeed, and do.

Dog and Pony Show.

Gentry's dog and pony show gave a very good exhibition on the corner of West Washington and South Greene streets last night. The show was well attended, the tent being filled. The performance was pronounced first-class.

Notice to Pythians.

There will be a meeting of Guilford Lodge No. 69, K. of P., in Masonic Hall this evening at 7:30 o'clock. There will be work in the degrees. All visiting Pythians are cordially invited.

It stands to reason that the court room is a fine place.

DELEGATES IN CONVENTION.

THE STRIKING MINERS ASSEMBLED.

About One Thousand Delegates at Scranton—President Mitchell Advises Them Not to Overestimate Their Strength But to Beware of the Avarice of Their Employers—Are the Bindings of the Convention—Apparent That the Strike Will Not be Settled—Mean Scheme of the Operators to Defeat the Miners.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Scranton, Oct. 12.—One thousand delegates are here today for the convention of striking miners to decide whether to accept the offer of the ten per cent. increase. There is surprise among the un-instructed delegates over the fact that men are sent here with instructions, as it was thought that whatever decision is reached by the convention would be binding upon the strikers.

The morning session of the convention was largely taken up in the enrollment of delegates. President Mitchell presided. In his opening speech he advised the miners not to overestimate their strength, yet take every precaution against their employers' avarice.

STRIKE WILL NOT BE SETTLED.

Wilkesbarre, Oct. 12.—The operators here do not expect a settlement of the strike to result from the meeting at Scranton today. They realized some days ago what would happen and the meeting in New York Wednesday was not for the purpose of considering what to do if the strike was declared off, but what to do when the men demand more concessions and refuse to accept the ten per cent. increase. As nearly as can be learned the operators have decided that they can offer no more, and that they will not even agree to signing a contract to keep the ten per cent. increase in force for a year. One of the local leaders said this morning that he had learned that the operators had planned to work full time when the strike is settled, and fill the stock yards, then when spring opens and the demand for coal decreases, to withdraw the increase and compel the men to accept the same wages they now are getting. However thay may be, it is apparent that the delegates will insist at the convention today on more than the ten per cent. offer.

AN INTERESTING CASE.

William Honeycutt, a Federal Prisoner, to be Tried for Murder.

The case of William Honeycutt, the Federal prisoner who has been confined in jail here for some time past on a charge of murder, is set for a hearing at Statesville next week.

The case is an interesting one. Honeycutt shot and killed Deputy Marshal W. H. Grier, in Mitchell county, and evaded arrest for some time. There was only one witness to the tragedy, and while at work in a field one day he was murdered, the shot being fired from ambush.

It was soon after this that Honeycutt was captured. It is generally believed that he shot the witness, though of course there is no evidence to that effect. Honeycutt believes the government officials are in league against him and will try to see that he is convicted of murder.

A Tally-Ho Drive to the Fair Grounds.

A party of young people enjoyed a very pleasant tally-ho drive to the Fair grounds yesterday afternoon, given in honor of visiting young ladies. Those in the party were:

Miss Alice Borden, of Wilmington; Miss Bessie Miller, of Goldsboro; Miss Currie, of Greensboro Female College, and the Misses Balsley, and Messrs. R. L. Carr, of Durham; John S. Michaux, P. D. Gold, O. M. Gates, J. B. Fariss, C. C. Sturgis and Dr. J. S. Betts.

Another "Trusty" Gone.

Another "trusty" has escaped from the county convict force. This time it was Dock Rucker, colored, who silently stole away early this morning. He belonged to Overseer Stanley's force and was at work in Jefferson township. He had served out all but five weeks of a three-months sentence.

THE ELKS ENTERTAIN.

A Stag Supper at the McAdoo House, Complimentary to Visitors.

The Elks, who never do things by halves, entertained last night, and a merrier crowd of men has seldom been seen together. The entertainment was in the form of a stag supper and was given complimentary to visiting Elks and other guests in the city.

The supper was given at the McAdoo House, and the excellent bill of fare was evidence that Mine Host Perkins had spared no pains in its preparation.

At 10 o'clock the antlered brethren and their friends, to the number of one hundred, filed into the dining room, which had been tastily decorated for the occasion. Mr. C. M. Vanstory presided with grace and dignity and saw to it that there was not a dull moment in the course of the supper.

Toasts were proposed and happily responded to by Judge James E. Boyd, Judge John Gray Bynum, Dr. W. A. Lash, Messrs. W. G. Mebane, R. F. Dalton, and Walter Holt, of Fayetteville; Starke Batchelor, of Raleigh; S. H. Webb, of Alamance county, and others.

A STARTLING (?) ANNOUNCEMENT.

"Ex-Governor" James E. Boyd Said to Have Gone Over to the Support of McKinley.

A few days ago the St. Louis Globe-Democrat printed an account, under flaming headlines, of another prominent Democrat who had gone over to the support of McKinley, reference being made to "ex-Governor James E. Boyd, of North Carolina." The article told of the prominence of the ex-governor in his State and party and was accompanied by a splendid picture of Judge James E. Boyd, of this city.

Some one sent Judge Boyd a copy of the paper containing the sketch and picture, this being the first intimation that gentleman received that he was either a Democrat or an ex-governor. In fact he has always been regarded in these parts as an original McKinley man.

The mistake probably arose from the fact that the State of Nebraska has an ex-governor by the name of James E Boyd.

A HAPPY OCCASION.

Charming Reception at the Home of Miss Minnie Lyon Last Night.

One of the most enjoyable social events of Fair week was a reception at the home of Miss Minnie Lyon last night, given in honor of several visiting young ladies. The hostess spared no effort in her charming way of entertaining, and every one present voted it the most pleasant affair of the season. Those so fortunate as to be present were:

Misses Lottie Miller and Frances Smith, of Charlotte; Kate Taylor, of Mt. Airy; Katherine Jeter, May Harrison, Lola Reid, Mamie Stroud, Mozelle Andrews, Minnie Reid, Daisy Carraway, Nettie Murray, Helen Wheeler, and Minnie and Hettie Lyon, and Dr. Ray, of Leaksville; Rev. Charles E. Hodgin, and Messrs. Bernie Gilmer, Charles Harrison, J. E. Mann, E. B. Broadhurst, Frank Leak, Frank Eldridge, George Patterson, Charles Murray, R. E. Reeves, Lacy Sellers, Eugene McNairy, Moody Stroud, Walter Ridenhour and Mike Reeves.

Saved by Turkeys.

It is said that the tobacco harvest of Asia Minor has just been saved from destruction in a singular manner. Caterpillars had settled upon the plants in myriads, and all hope of the crop seemed gone, when one of the growers conceived the idea of turning his turkeys among the plants. In a few days the gobblers had effectually cleared the pest on that particular plantation, and other proprietors hastened to acquire flocks of turkeys. The world's supply of "Turkish" for 1900 has been saved.

When I vhas going home in a crowded street car der odder eafnings, I gif oop my seat to a fat man.

"How vhas dot?" said one of my friends. "Haf you got some pity for dot man?"

"Not a bit," says I. "I simply gif oop my seat to revenge on my fellow men. Doan' you see dot he takes oop twice my room und squeezes twice as many folks together?" M. QUAD.

THE END OF THE GREAT FAIR

IT WAS CLOSED THIS AFTERNOON

Directors Thought it Advisable Not to Continue Through Saturday—The Fair Has Been a Decided Success and Will Become a Permanent Institution—More Extensive Exhibits and Larger Attendance Than Had Been Expected — Today's Races.

The first fair of the Central Carolina Fair Association is a thing of the past, having been brought to a close at the end of today's races. It had been announced that the Fair would continue through tomorrow, making up for the day lost in opening, but at a meeting of the directors before the races began this afternoon it was decided to close today. Some of the horsemen wished to leave after today in order to prepare for races at other places, and it was feared that this would interfere with continuing the fair longer.

When everything is considered, the Fair has been a decided success. Thousands have attended, a great many more than had been expected, and all the visitors have been well pleased. Many have said it was the best fair they had ever attended. The largest attendance was on yesterday, when between 6,000 and 8,000 people were admitted into the grounds. The attendance today was also very large.

The large number of visitors and the general excellence of exhibits have demonstrated that a fair can be successfully operated in Greensboro, and there is no doubt of its continuance. Next year it will be even more successful.

TODAY'S RACES.

The track was worked over this morning and was in better condition than on yesterday, when it was a trifle slow from Tuesday's rain.

Dr. Sossaman's Handful of the Elect Met In Raleigh Yesterday and Made Nominations—Maj. Graham Daves to Deliver the Memorial Address—Convicts Have Made 3,750,000 Bricks This Year—Chapter of Daughters at Oxford.

Special Correspondence of The Telegram.

Raleigh, Oct. 12.—Yesterday afternoon the Populist State Convention of the "Middle-of-the-Roaders" met here. Dr. John W. Sossaman, of Mecklenburg, was its head centre. Thirty-nine counties were represented, in person or by proxy, mainly by proxy, as Dr. Sossaman remarked. He said he had so many proxies that that noted humorist, Ex-Congressman A. C. Shuford, who was present, said there was a sufficiency of that kind three or four times over, for anything he wanted.

The following were nominated for electors at large: V. N. Seawell, of Clinton, George E. Boggs, of Haywood, county; for district electors, First district, A. J. Moze, of Pitt; 2nd, James M. Mewborne, of Lenior; 3rd, C. D. Franks, of Onslow; 4th, J. E. Spence, of Chatham; 5th, T. J. Oldham, of Orange; 6th, S. A. Edmund, of Robeson; 7th, S. A. Lawrence, of Iredell; 8th, S. C. Kerly, of Burke; 9th, Lindsay Furgason, of Haywood.

Dr. Sossaman was selected chairman and P. L. Gardner secretary of the State Executive Committee. They were instructed, Dr. Sossaman says, to at once notify the above named electors of their nomination and to ask them in the most direct manner if they are right in the middle-of-the-roaders, all wool, a yard wide, and with no flies on them; and to tell them that if they do not meet these requirements they are to be taken down instaner.

Dr. Cy. Thompson was not present. Deep regret was felt at his absence. Harry Skinner was not on hand either. Dr. Sossaman said Col. Skinner told him early in the day that he did not know where he was "at" this year, and that therefore he would not vote at all, but would sit on the fence and see the procession pass by.

Grand Secretary Woodell has returned from Lincolton, where a lodge of Odd Fellows was organized.

A new chapter of Daughters of the Confederacy is to be organized at Oxford.

Maj. Graham Daves, of Newbern, accepts the invitation of the Ladies' Memorial Association of Raleigh to deliver the memorial address May 10. His subject will be the causes which led up to the civil war.

The superb new hotel, the Carolina, built by Mr. James W. Tufts at Pinehurst, is not to be opened until January 1, as not until after the holidays does the great rush of visitors from the North begin.

The Atlantic Coast Line is always a progressive railway. It has completed a relref hospital at Rocky Mount, and it is in charge of Dr. Manning, a son of the late Hon. John Manning, of the State University. The road is building quarters for Dr. George Thomas, who is at the head of its hospital staff.

Manager Arendell of the Penitentiary, says the electric light plant will be in operation in two weeks. He says the convicts have this year made 3,750,000 bricks. That work is nearly done now for the season as the bricks are sun dried.

HENKLE-BRENIZER CASE.

Argument Completed Yesterday Afternoon and the Jury Charged by Judge Shaw This Morning.

Correspondence of the Telegram.

Charlotte, Oct. 12.—The charge to the jury in the long continned Henkle-Brenizer damage suit was delivered by Jduge Shaw this morning. The argument was completed yesterday afternoon, Col. H. C. Jones closing for the plaintiff. The case has been most remarkable, both from the strong array of legal talent employed and the time consumed, it having been called over a week ago.

The plaintaiffs are seeking $20,000 damages. The case has so far cost $1600.

A new paper appears here Friday for the first time. The paper will be a monthly and is devoted principally to matrimonial affairs and advertisements. Mr. Pearl Garnes is manager and owner.

The first copy of the "Daily News," Atlanta's new afternoon paper reached here yesterday. It was issued Wednesday and is made up on the plan of the New York Journal.

The first brick has been laid on the public square which will be re-paved.

The funeral of Miss Hattie Thompson took place yesterday. Miss Thompson had been ill for about two months. The funeral was attended by a large number of students from Elizabeth College where Miss Thompson was a student last year.

Next to the Consumer is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking post, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity

They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been to low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price it now costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time."

And ours is the place to get the stuff.

STORY OF A SLAVE.

To be bound hand and foot for yeasr by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. Geo. D. Williams, of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says "My wife has been been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters, she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for female diseases quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This miracle-working medicine is a godsend to weak, sickly, rundown people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents. Sold by C. E. Holton, druggist.

Blobbs—"Your friend Bjones is of the noveau riche." Slobbs—"How did you discover that?" Blobbs—"I was out with him in his automobile this morning, and he kept continually saying: 'Git up!'"

PREVENTED A TRAGEDY.

Timely information given Mrs. George Long, of New Straitsville, O., prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had kept her awake every night. She tried many remedies and doctors but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle cured her, and she writes this marvelous medicine also cured Mr. Long of a severe attack of pneumonia. Such cures are positive proof of the matchless merit of this grand remedy for curing all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1900.

SUCCESS!—GREATER TO FOLLOW.

The first annual meet of the Central Carolina Fair has been an undoubted success. The officers and stockholders should be immensely gratified at the reeults attending their first efforts. We take it that they are now thoroughly satisfied of what can be done, and all that is now lacking to give us the leading annual fair of the State is for all our citizens to realize the same thing and take stock in the institution. As soon as the first fair closes, preparations should be begun for the next, and it behooves the business people of the town to take hold of it to a man. Think of what has been accomplished with so slight means and we can have some idea of what may be done with more ample ones.

WHEN THE INTERNATIONAL TRUST APPEARS.

According to our information trusts only thrive in countries having a protective tariff and an advanced state o industrial development. These two conditions existing in all countries in which trusts operate, it appears that they are both necessary to the production of these organizations. Thus, England, in a high state of industrial and commercial advancement, but a free trade country, is free from them, and Russia, though employing a protective policy, but more primitive in its methods than any of the other leading nations, has not yet produced the trust. And Germany and France,each possessing both of the above-mentioned conditions, have had trusts much longer than they have existed in the United States. If these statements are true we have the reason why tsusts are a recent thing in the United States, though ours is a protective policy, and at the same time have not appeared in other American countries which also enjoy a protective policy, but have not reached a certain stage in industrial development.

Again, all these statements and conclusions being true, the argument that a free trade policy, or even a tariff for revenue only, on the part of the United States, would destroy our trusts, appears to be good. But upon further examination it will appear that this remedy, or preventive, if adopted by all countries would be only temporary. That is, that capital, seeking monopoly, would for a short time only be circumscribed by national bounds, and that we would simply have international instead of national trusts. Of course this would be more difficult to accomplish, but not by any means impossible. A trust now satisfied with the monopoly of the home market, on losing it by the reduction of the tariff, would very quietly seek an alliance, for mutual advantage,with the foreign company that was encroaching upon it. All tariffs being removed, free competion between different organizations would set in, and the world being the field, there is no reason why they should not organize for the control of that field as national rivals now organize to control the home fields.

The international trust may not appear for some time, but it is aneventuality that many of us may live to see, even before growing very old. Indeed, these thoughts were suggested by a short clipping stating that the Standard Oil Company is now attempting to gain control of the oil fields of Japan.

We do not subscribe to the belief that Archie Kinsauls, the murderer who was hanged in Sampson county last week, may not be living and doing well now. That county is blessed with the "Scientists" who can make disease skedaddle by the exercise of faith. No doubt one of these got hold of Mr. Kinsauls and "brought him to." In explaining the modus operandi one of them, who was doing up things in Greensboro sometime ago, said that they could cure any part of the body that remained, not being able, for instance to restore a leg or an arm or a finger that had been buried some time, but if anything were the matter with the ones that remained, they could attend to it in ship shape. Now we submit that Mr. Kinsauls' neck was only broken, but remained where it belonged alright. Then why shouldn't it have been "healed?"

MORE INFORMATION WANTED.

The Salisbury Truth-Index copies a paragraph from our Raleigh letter of a day or two ago in which reference was made to a sermon preached by Dr. Hubbard, of the Baptist Tabernacle of Raleigh, on "Christian Science." Dr. Hubbard, our correspondent says, "called attention to the fact on the day President Wingate, of Wake Forest College, died, he saw the Saviour personally and talked with him eight hours. Mr. N. B. Broughton spoke today about this mircale and said it unquestionably occurred, was no halluciation and that there was no doubt of it."

The Salisbury paper is edited, we believe, by a preacher. He always speaks as one having authority, whether he knows anything about the matter or not. Here is his dictum on this subject:

If Mr. Hubbard and Mr. Broughton are correctly quoted they are misinformed. Such fanatical ideas and statements do the cause of genuine religion much damage.

We believe that miracles are still performed by the direct power of God in answer to humble, believing prayer; but we do not believe that they ever occur otherwise.

At the risk of annihilation, we suggest that The Truth-Index is the individual that has assumed a fanatical position. It says that miracles are performed in answer to humble, believing prayer. What right has it to assume that such prayer was not exercised in this instance? But we did not introduce this subject for the purpose of convicting our neighbor of being guilty of what it charges to others. That were scarcely worth the doing. We copy the extract for the purpose of giving our Raleigh correspondent an opportunity to give us some more information on this subject. It is very interesting. We await some more information, since few people appear to have ever heard of the matter.

The people who jump at conclusions would jump for the rear of a ferry boat.

Hon. Richard Olney is not the only citizen of Massachusetts who has made a record for non-voting. According to Susan Darling Safford, in her book of "Quaint Epitaphs," on a tombstone in a church-yard at Wayland, Mass., is the followind inscription.

Here lies the body of Dr. Hayward,
A man who never voted.
Of such is the kingdom of heaven.
—Philadelphia Record.

The wife of Homer W. Hodge, of Atlanta, has secured a divorce under peculiar circumstances. Hodge was charged by his wife with "cruel and inhuman treatment," avarice and religious fanaticism. He was seized with a desire, she alleged, to convert her to religion, and every morning compelled their two-year-old son, the butler, the cook, the maid, and others to get down on their knees before her and offer up prolonged prayers for her redemption.

This, she says, was kept up until breakfast was cold, and when she did sit down it was to find a Bible in her plate. She further charges that her husband circulated scandal regarding her, and in many ways sought to damage her reputation.

Quite a number of the newspapers of the State have given currency to a wild-eyed report—some of them apparently giving credence to it—to the effect that the murderer Kinsauls, who was hanged at Clinton, Sampson county, last week, was resuscitated after the hanging and is now recovering in a hospital in Richmond. Stories are told of the mysterious conduct of the family after the body was delivered to it and one man, a "friend," he was, he says, of the lamented murderer, went to the house to sit up with the corpse and was not permitted to do so; the the Kinsauls folks acted so "curi's" that he is satisfied that there is something shady about the business. * * About twenty-five years ago one Joseph Baker was hanged in Charlotte for murder, and for weeks afterward the negroes and some white people had it going that he had "come to" after the hanging and was still alive and doing well. These are not the only cases of the Kinsauls kind that are within the writer's personal recollection, but they are enough. The people of Sampson can rest assured that Mr. K. is as dead as he will ever be. —Charlotte Observer.

Balloon Clothesline.

A Paris laundry has started a novelty in the drying and purifying of linen, and has succeeded in convincing most of its customers that the notion is a good one. The air about 100 feet above the house is particularly good for linen, say the proprietors, and they accordingly send your shirts and collars for a balloon trip. Bamboo frames are attached to a captive balloon, and the linen, "rough dry," is fixed to the frames and sails away in the air. The balloon makes six ascents daily, and an extra charge is made for each article that undergoes the treatment.

IMPORTANT!

Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 26th, 1900.

TO OUR CUSTOMERS:

On and after October 15th, 1900, we, the undersigned, will do a strictly cash business. Our reasons are as follows:

1st. Absolute NECESSITY.

2nd. Laundry, the world over, is a recognized cash business and justly so.

3rd. Our accounts are necessarily small, and it causes an endless amount of confusion and expense to collect, besides losses each year in bad bills.

4th. All of our current expenses, such as labor, fuel, gas and supplies are cash, hence the stand we take is forced upon us. While we very much regret, in most cases, to exact the spot cash, yet we must treat all alike, and we see no other way out of the difficulty. We trust our customers will lend us their aid by stating when to return laundry and by being prepared to pay for same when delivered. Our drivers will have positive instructions to return to the laundry all packages not paid for.

We have on sale at office (for cash) coupon books from $1 to $5 which can be left at convenient place at home, so that on delivery of bundle the amount of laundry bill can be torn out by the driver.

VERY RESPECTFULLY,

TRUE TO HIS LOVE.

Pretty Romance of Archduke Franz Ferdinand of Austria.

"Politics Shall Not Sway Me in My Choice of a Wife," Declared the Heir Apparent of the Austro-Hungarian Realm.

All Vienna is talking about the approaching marriage of Archduke Franz Ferdinand Este, the heir apparent to the throne of Austria, and the lovely Countess Chotek, and those who are behind the scenes in Vienna tell a charming story of the manner in which this love affair began and of the archduke's unswerving loyalty in the face of the opposition that would have dismayed many a less determined man. Franz Ferdinand, however, can be firm as granite when he pleases, and not even his uncle, Franz Josef, can move him. When he was 22 the Austrian cabinet arranged a marriage for him with a princess of Saxony. He said nothing until his formal consent was asked, but then his remonstrance was so strong that the matter was quickly dropped. The emperor himself took his part on this occasion. "He has a right to choose his own wife," was his curt remark to those who told him of his nephew's conduct.

Eight years ago the archduke and Countess Chotek met for the first time, and ever since then the two have been in love with each other. The widowed Crown Princess Stephanie has a country place at Abbazia, where she spends several months each year, and she was there in 1891, when the archduke paid her a visit.

This, says the New York Herald, was their first meeting. That evening the archduke spent by her side, and the next day he was much in her company. He had intended to stay only a few days at Abbazia, but he remained there for some weeks. At first no one suspected that Countess Chotek was the attraction; on the contrary, the ladies of honor were almost all of the opinion that he was in love with the crown princess, and general was the desire that this should be so, for everyone knew that nothing would have pleased the emperor more than to see Stephanie married to Franz Ferdinand. The truth however, was soon revealed, for the archduke's attention to the countess gradually became so marked that there could no longer be any doubt on the subject.

Naturally the emperor was quickly informed, and sorely was he disappointed when he found that his cherished project of making a match between Stephanie and the archduke would not succeed. He did not, however, discuss the matter with the archduke until it was definitely settled that the latter was to succeed him on the throne, and then he pointed out the desirability of allying himself with one of the royal houses of Europe, and even named a certain princess as well fitted to become empress of Austria. Franz Ferdinand listened patiently until his uncle had concluded, and then courteously, but firmly, he announced his intention of giving his hand to the lady who had already secured his heart, namely, to Countess Chotek.

At the emperor's desire the archduke soon afterward started on a tour round the world, and on the day of his departure the Vienna papers announced, apparently by authority, that he had decided to marry a princess whose name would not be announced until after the formal betrothal had taken place. The papers hinted, however, that through this betrothal the emperor's dearest wish would be accomplished. When this news reached Countess Chotek she was amazed beyond measure and went at once to Crown Princess Stephanie and questioned her. She knew that the crown princess was her friend and would tell her the truth.

ARCHDUKE FRANZ FERDINAND.
(Heir Presumptive to the Thrones of Austria and Hungary.)

"So you want to know the name of the archduke's bride?" asked Stephanie. "Well, I can tell you, for it is no secret. I am the lady."

Utterly bewildered, but even then refusing to believe that Franz Ferdinand had proved false to her, the "silent countess" stammered a request for an explanation.

"My dearest countess," said the crown princess, with a smile, "you need not be uneasy. Surely you can see by my manner that there is not a word of truth in this story. Indeed, I knew nothing about it until I read it in the paper you see lying there on the table."

Countess Chotek was satisfied, and, though other stories appeared subsequently about the prince's betrothal, she paid no attention to them, for she knew that he would keep the promise which he made to her before he started on his tour round the world. And the world knows how well he has kept it.

NEGRO LAD'S INVENTION.

Eugene Burkin, of Chicago, Constructs a Rapid-Fire Machine Gun of Great Power.

Eugene Burkin, a colored boy of 19 years, who lives over on Chicago's great West side, is the inventor of a rapid-fire machine gun which he claims is the most effective weapon of its kind in the world, and is destined to throw the invention of Maxim and Nordenfeldt, now in general use in the armaments of the world, into the scrap heap. Several experts who have seen the model of Burkin's gun pronounce it a marvel of ingenuity, and a terrible weapon. The boy is said to have refused an offer of $50,000 for his invention through motives of patriotism, he being desirous that the United States government should have the first opportunity to test and purchase the weapon.

Burkin is a source of pride to the colored population of Chicago, who are jubilant that one of their race should develop the creative power. The boy has never had any mechanical training, yet all the work on his model has been his own. The first idea of the weapon came to him during the Spanish-American war, when the magnificent work of the American gunners directed his thoughts to guns and their improvement. He constructed his first model of wood, his only tool being a jack-knife.

The lack of funds then threatened to put a stop to the young inventor's the West side, which gave him the use of its tools and machinery for five dollars a day. Here he constructed the model, which he sent to the patent office at Washington, which has already allowed 17 of his claims on the weapon. Prominent men of the colored race are using their influence to induce the war department at Washington to conduct a series of tests with the gun. It has been christened the "Maine."

Recently a train carried 59 carloads of oranges from California east. There were in all 21,712 boxes.

THE BICYCLE TROLLEY.

Detroit Inventor Has an Idea Which Is Interesting Even Though It May Not Be Practical.

If the dreams of a Detroit inventor are realized there will soon be a network of wires stretching across the country on which owners of bicycles will be able to travel at their ease and without paying any attention to the condition of the roads. The invention, as the Detroit man has patented it, consists of a steel frame suspended from a wire, the frame being so built that it will hold an ordinary bicycle, together with the necessary mechanism for communicating the power to the wheels running on the trolley wire.

When a bicycle is fitted into the frame of the "bicycle trolley" its rear wheel rests on a flat belt running over two small wheels. An upright steel rod with a bevel gear top and bottom transfers the power generated by riding the bicycle in the ordinary way to the wheels running on the trolley wire, so that the frame, bicycle, rider and all will be carried swiftly along beneath the wire. The inventor contemplates the formation of a national company, with toll gates, to control the wire roads and telephone service all along the route.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

of cod-liver oil is the means of life and enjoyment of life to thousands: men women and children.

When appetite fails, it restores it. When food is a burden, it lifts the burden.

When you lose flesh, it brings the plumpness of health.

When work is hard and duty is heavy, it makes life bright.

It is the thin edge of the wedge, the thick end is food. But what is the use of food, when you hate it, and can't digest it?

Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil is the food that makes you forget your stomach.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

THE BUSY FAIRIES.

"When little children lie asleep
The fairies leave the sky,
And through the windows slyly creep
And touch each sleepy eye,
And on the little beds they sit,
And 'round the curly heads they flit
Till rosy morning's nigh.

"When all the story telling's done
The fairies come to stay
And watch beside each little one
Till Dawn wakes up the day;
Where silvery beams of moonlight stream
In happy dreams fair castles gleam,
While fairies watch away.

"And when the sky above is blue
And when the sun is high,
What do the little fairies do?—
They make our money fly!
The dollars that were hard to earn
They pile up in the yard to burn,
Or waste them on the sly.

"They make new gowns too old to use
And little trousers tear;
They touch the toes of little shoes
And presto! holes are there—
They win away by spoiling things
The money that much toiling brings—
But leave us love to share!"
—S. E. Kiser, in Chicago Times-Herald.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and othaches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to moke you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by Grissom & Fordham.

Instinct of a Blind Pig.

Pennsylvania boasts of a wonderful blind pig. It was born blind, and at the tender age of three months was sold to a neighboring farmer, who took it home in his wagon. The road was not only crooked, but was cut by several cross-roads, and it passed through a village with a dozen cross-streets, the entire distance being two miles beyond the village. The pig was turned into a small lot, and the third day afterward the little blind fellow was back with his former owner. There was no other way for the pig to return home than by following the road over which he was carried in the box. Still, as dumb animals perform these feats by instinct, a blind pig would be on an equal footing with any other.

Do not get scared if your heart troubles you. Most likely you suffer from indigestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and gives the worn out stomach perfect rest. It is the only preparation known that completely digests all classes of foods; that is why it cures the worst cases of indigestion and stomach trouble after everything else has failed. It may be taken in all conditions and cannot help but do you good.

ALMOST A MONOPOLY.

The Fair Has Excluded Most of the Other News—A Few Items.

Congressman Kitchin spoke to a large crowd in High Point last night.

The curtain will go up for "Private John Allen" at the Academy of Music this evening at 8:30 o'clock.

"Private John Allen," at the Academy of Music, and the marshal's ball, at the McAdoo House, are the attractioons for tonight.

The Populists of this district have nominated J. T. B. Hoover, of Oxford, for Congress. He was one of McKinley's census supervisors in this State.

The meeting of Cartland Council No. 99, Jr. O. A. U. M., which was to have been held in Odd Fellows Hall tonight, has been called off on account of the Fair.

Private John Allen may been seen tonight by these wishing to attend the marshal's ball. The curtain will rise promptly at 8:30 and the play be over in plenty of time to get to the ball.

Dr. Chas Roberson returned this morning from Baltimore, where he accompanied Mrs. John Orrell to Johns Hopkins Hospital for treatment. He reports the patient as getting on finely, the operation having been perfectly satisfactory.

PAPER CHINAMAN.

How to Cut Him Out and How to Fasten Him Together.

Here is something for the boys and girls to make some rainy day when the grass is too wet to play outdoors. It will please you, for every child we ever knew liked to cut out papers. The description of this little Chinaman we found in a little publication called "New Ideas for Woman's Wear."

You will need, in the first place, several sheets of pinwheel paper, of different colors, a large size that comes at four cents a sheet, a spool of black thread, some tissue paper and cotton batting. A few toothpicks of wood or burnt matches are also needed to give extra strength to the head and neck.

Take the paper and fold double and cut out the shirt, like illustration No. 1 in the diagram, folding it on the shoulders. Then, preferably of a different color paper, cut out the legs and feet double like Nos. 3 and 4 and if desired black the feet with ink.

The hands should be cut out like No. 5 and if a hat is wanted No. 2 is the pattern, folding it on the dotted lines.

To make the head, take a piece of the tissue paper (uncolored), and in the center place a piece of the cotton and a toothpick. Fold down all the sides of the paper to keep the face smooth and about the shape in the picture of the finished Chinaman.

Take a long piece of the thread, double it several times, divide in three and braid it, tying the end with a single piece. Insert the end of the pigtail in the fold at the back of the head and fasten there with glue or mucilage. To put the Chinaman together, slip the shirt over the head and glue to it, put the hands in the sleeves and glue in place, paste together each folded leg and foot and insert the upper edge of each beneath the ends of the shirt and fasten these with glue. Glue the hat over the top of the head.

THE PAPER CHINAMAN.

Draw two slanting eyes, a nose and mouth and curved line for the chin with pen and ink or black crayon and the face is done.

It is best to fasten together all the edges of the shirt with mucilage. Red, blue, yellow, green, brown and all colored papers may be used, and gold and silver paper also. The buttons down the front here are marked with a pen, but little round pieces of another colored paper pasted on each give a much better effect.
